UNITED CONGREGATIONS HELD "GET-TO-GETHER" SOCIAL

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Middle Street Baptist church was held in the chapel Wednesday afternoon. At six o'clock a very appetizing supper was served, the menu being as follows:

Sliced Beans
Potatoes and Egg Salad
Pickles Rolls
Assorted Cake Pie
Coffee

The following was the supper committee: Mrs. Edward Patterson, chairman; Mrs. Arthur Smith, Mrs. Frank West, Mrs. George Joy, Mrs. John Wright. The waitresses: Mrs. James Pettigrew, Mrs. Edward Bryant, Mrs. Harry Caswell, and the Misses Margaret Reed, Anna Seavey, Doris Venton and Florence Day.

After the supper a "Get-Together" social of the Middle and Pearl Street congregations was held. This was the first one of its kind held since the union of the two churches and the affair was a decided success.

A pleasing program was presented as follows:

Violin duet.....
Wyatt Wendell and Ray Walsh
Vocal solo..... Miss Eleanor Reich
Patriotic reading..... Mrs. George Davis
Star Spangled Banner.....
Miss Edie Wright, (Congregation)

standing.)
Piano solo..... Miss Pearl Winn
Reading..... Arnon Bonfield
Selection..... Young Peoples' Quartet
Reading, in Indian costume.....
Miss Blanche Pettigrew
Remarks..... Rev. Edwin P. Moulton
Remarks..... Rev. Edwin P. Stanley
Vocal solo..... Miss Edie Wright
Reading..... Mrs. George Davis
At the conclusion of the entertainment, Rev. W. P. Stanley suggested that in order to make it a real social affair, all those whose birthdays fell on the same date should re-lire together in turn to the middle room where refreshments of ice cream and assorted cake were served. The room was decorated with palms and on the refreshment table was a lighted silver candelabra, making a very beautiful effect. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wendell, assisted by Mrs. David Urich had charge of the refreshments. The following ladies acted as waitresses: Mrs. Sidney Rand, Miss Chapman, and Miss Susan Paul.

Altogether the affair was a very delightful one, and many more such pleasant times are anticipated by the united congregations in the future.

OPERATED UPON MRS. ROOSEVELT

Wife of Former President
Resting Comfortably at
Hospital in N. Y.

(Special to The Herald)
New York, April 15.—Mrs. Roosevelt, wife of former President Theodore Roosevelt, underwent an operation at the Roosevelt hospital today. The operation was performed shortly after 9 o'clock by Doctor Howard C. Taylor. It was announced that the operation was a complete success and that Mrs. Roosevelt would soon be on the road to recovery. Colonel and Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., arrived at the hospital shortly before the operation and remained while it was taking place.

London, April 15.—The British steamship Plarmigan, of the General Steam Navigation Company, was torpedoed by a German submarine in the North Sea today. Advice received here at noon state that 11 members of her crew were saved. The Plarmigan was a vessel of 784 tons, commanded by Captain Cole.

DECIDE COTTON IS NOT CONTRABAND
London, April 15.—The British government has decided against placing cotton on the contraband list.

A question was asked in the house of commons this afternoon on this subject and Neil Primrose, under secretary of foreign affairs on behalf of the foreign office, replied that after careful consideration it had been found that the military advantages to be gained by declaring cotton contraband were insufficient to render such a step expedient.

Assistant Secretary of Navy
Says Japanese Are Not Establishing Naval Base.

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, April 15.—Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, who recently returned from San Diego, today ridiculed the report from Los Angeles that 4,000 Japanese marines and sailors had landed at Turtle Bay, Lower California, Mexico, mined the harbor and were backed up by five Japanese warships. He asserted that the Japanese were undoubtedly attempting to save the Japanese cruiser Asama which ran aground there some weeks ago.

GEN. FUNSTON RUSHED TO MEXICAN BORDER

Washington April 14.—Mexican fight had two field guns on the ground and ing threatened Brownsville, Tex., so, seriously today that no Gen. Funston was on his way there from Fort San Antonio, he notified the war department.

A battle raged all of Tuesday about Matamoros and along the river bank to a point a mile west of Brownsville, thought to be so desperate that double Funston reported. Gen. Villa, he said, was expressed whether he would be heeded unless he resorted to forcible measures. Brownsville Again in Mexican Gullet Peril

Washington, April 14.—A series of distinct engagements, some of which assume the proportions of pitched battles, are in progress in Mexico. Representatives here of both factions admit the fighting will decide whether Carranza can break the Villa control of the north and regain Mexico City. The biggest fight is at Del Rio, where more than 20,000 Villistas, and Gen. Felipe Angeles, with most of the Villa artillery, are attacking Obregon.

At Matamoros, the attacking Villistas have brought up heavy re-enforcements and are attacking the Carranzas from the west and south. American cavalrymen are on guard about Brownsville, where shots fell yesterday from across the border.

South of Nuevo Laredo at Hulsachita, the Carranzas are pursuing the Villistas defeated in Friday's and Saturday's fighting. Reports indicate that this is a war of extermination; Gen. Herrera's troops having summarily shot 294 Villista prisoners and killed all the wounded.

The Villistas are again trying to retake Tampico, south of Tampico, in the center of the oil territory.

Agua Prieta is Again Threatened

Douglas, Ariz., April 14.—Villa representatives here today stated that Gen. Acosta is moving slowly eastward with the intention of again surrounding Agua Prieta, cutting the Nacozari railroad, stopping traffic and holding the army of Gen. Calles in the town. In view of this report railroad officials are making every effort to get supplies into camp, and to move bullion and concentrates to the border.

Gen. Acosta's army is said to number between 3,000 and 4,000 including 1000 Yaqui Indians under Col. Urbalejo. Gen. Calles has about 3,000 men including all the garrisons along the Nacozari railroad.

Funston to Have Aeroplane Patrol Brownsville Tex. April 14.—Maj. Gen. Frederick Funston who is due to arrive here today from San Antonio to take personal supervision over the border situation has been advised that an aeroplane is needed to assist in making observations.

Although the zone of probable fighting about Matamoros is not more than four miles in an air line the reserve hounds of the Rio Grande make a border 10 miles long which must be watched to prevent neutrality violations. Bushes and woods make it impossible to watch this boundary from any given observation station and patrols in many places can observe only a few yards at a time owing to the brush.

An aeroplane above the American side also would be able to make out the stations of the Villa field guns a matter vital to Brownsville's safety. 350 Equipped with Carranza Machine Guns

Laredo Tex. April 14.—While the official figures placed the Carranzas' execution of Villa prisoners at Hulsachita at 260 there was growing evidence today the victors slaughtered fully 350 including women camp followers and wounded men.

New details today said scores were mown down before a Carranzista machine gun squad. In justification the Carranzistas say they were retaliating for similar treatment by Villistas.

PARLIAMENT TO DECIDE ENGLISH LIQUOR CASE

London April 14.—The British cabinet will take no action to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors. After several conferences the ministry has decided to leave the liquor question to the people through their representatives in the House of Commons. Premier Asquith made this announcement today.

When Parliament re-assembled this afternoon the liquor question and rumors of an early peace were uppermost in the public mind. There were all sorts of rumors that Premier Asquith would have important announcements to make on both subjects.

The cabinet's position on the liquor question was quickly made known. Parliament had scarcely gone into session when a member queried the prime minister on the result of the recent liquor discussions. The premier replied that the ministry had reached the conclusion that the Commons and not the government should decide a matter of vital interest to the British people.

In response to another query Secretary of State for the Colonies Harcourt intimated that the government would consult Canada and other self-governing colonies most fully when the time to discuss peace terms arrives. He had no observations to make regarding the probability of an early peace.

Harold J. Tennant parliamentary secretary of war announced there had been 1546 promotions to commissions from the ranks since the beginning of the war.

Announcing in the House of Commons that the British foreign office had requested the American ambassador in London Walter H. Page to telegraph to the American ambassador in Berlin James Gerard to find out what truth there was in the reported German reprisals Nell Primrose parliamentary under secretary for foreign affairs added:

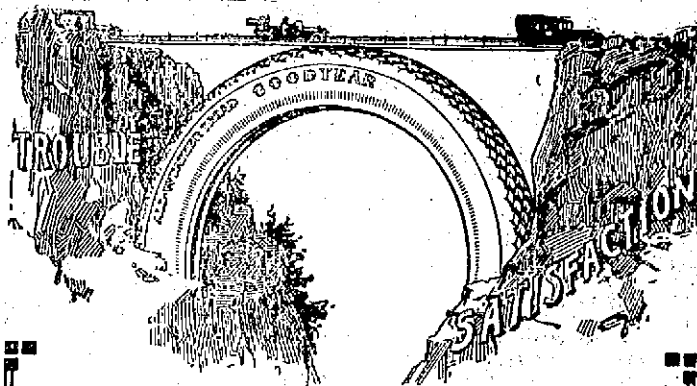

"If this report be true we can only hope that these prisoners are being treated as well as are the crews captured in submarines in this country."

Premier Asquith announced that the House would sit only for three days' work. He also stated in reply to a suggestion that the members ought to follow the lead of King George and abstain from alcohol that the suppression of alcoholic liquors at the Palace of Westminster was a matter for the House and not the government to decide.

Fortified Tires Span the Way from Trouble

Goodyear tires have bridged the way for countless men to less trouble and tax. And those men, by their endorsement, brought our last year's output up to 1,479,883 tires.

Why do you suppose that Goodyear holds top place—you who use other tires? They have held that place for years, outselling any other.

The only reason, as you must know, is that Goodyear averages best. And that's how they are bound to win you.

The Super-Tire

They are not trouble-proof. Mishaps come to them, misuse affects them, much like other tires.

But Goodyears are Fortified Tires. They protect you in five ways employed by no other maker.

They combat five major troubles in unique ways, exclusive to Fortified Tires.

These five extra features cost us fortunes. One alone—our "On-Air" cure—costs us $450,000 yearly. But they save Goodyear users millions of dollars yearly. They avoid countless troubles for them.

Lower Prices

On February 1st we made another big reduction. That makes three in two years, totaling 45 per cent. We are giving you, through mammoth production, the best tire value ever known.

Please prove this, for your own sake, by the tire itself. The following Goodyear Service Stations will supply you:

The Spirit of Graft.

A recent newspaper article strikingly illustrates the spirit of "graft" that is so prevalent in this country today. The article pertained to what may be considered a small matter, and the facts brought out will probably bring a smile to many faces and undisguised admiration for the cleverness of the young women who are practicing the particular form of "graft" in question.

The information on which the article was based was gained on a railroad train in which a large number of young women were returning to college after the Easter vacation. In a conversation between two of the students one of the young women confided to the other that she was frequently troubled by a shortage of "pin money," and her companion immediately explained how this could be remedied to some extent. She told how whenever she traveled between her home and the college she always asked her father for Pullman car fare, then rode in an ordinary coach and pocketed the difference in cost. She said this was a common practice among the students of her college, and the information was received with evident pleasure and satisfaction by the youthful freshman who had not been in college long enough to have "caught on to all the ropes."

The girls who practice this deception on their fathers undoubtedly feel that they are doing a bright and comparatively innocent thing, but such is by no means the case. The practice may be bright, but it is not innocent. It is an indirect way of stealing, and no young man or young woman will ever be permanently benefited by a resort to tactics of that character.

At the same time it is a fair illustration of the spirit of the times, when the disposition to get something for nothing is very prevalent and very pronounced. There are scores of forms of "grafting" in ways that are not recognized as stealing, and this practice of the college girls is only one of them. Grafting in public life, the extraction from the tax payers of money for which no adequate return is made, is one of the crying evils of the times, but what else is to be expected when girls in their college days fall into the habit of imposing on their own fathers in the simple matter of railroad fares?

What this country needs today more than any other one thing is a baptism of plain, old-fashioned honesty. Life and conditions can never be what they should be so long as "graft" is considered not only clever, but practically innocent, whether practiced by the pretty college girl or the solemn-faced public official.

England is calling for American workmen to take the places of men who are at the front. Transportation charges will be paid and six months' work is guaranteed. Wages are not so high in England as in this country, but living is cheaper, and the call should help to hush the cry of unemployment in this country, which is already much fainter than it was.

The war against tuberculosis in New York city will hereafter include examinations of the teachers in the public schools and there is no good reason why it should not. The fight against this dreadful malady cannot be too strenuous, and if the work is to be thorough no partiality must be shown. The danger must be recognized wherever it appears.

The president of the Touring Club of France assures Americans that automobiling in that country will be practically as safe and pleasant as ever this year, and perhaps it will, but most Americans who have been in the habit of spending their summers abroad will undoubtedly decide to see something of their own country during the year 1915.

Ex-Governor Patterson of Tennessee in an address at Boston a few days ago predicted that national prohibition will prevail in the United States within five years. No one can say positively that it will not, but the chances are altogether against so tremendous a turn-about in so short a time.

From all quarters come reports of rapid brightening of the business outlook. Business is the trump card of the United States, whose people are not going to sit down and fold their arms because the rest of the world sees fit to spend its time and substance in war.

A federal statute prohibits interstate transportation of moving pictures of prize fights, and consequently the Willard-Johnson mill will not be so extensively reproduced as had been anticipated. It is just as well.

Postal receipts are reported to be on the increase, and this is a good sign. The postoffice is considered a very reliable business barometer.

Plenty of verses are being written on the world-war now in progress, but little real poetry. Most of the efforts kick back as savagely as the guns.

April's ardor has cooled.

CURRENT OPINION

Effect of European War Will Be to Strengthen American Patriotism

It is the conspicuous merit of our present administration that at the outset it discerned the immediate consequences for us with clear definition. Its position exasperated the rank and file of Americans, while it confounded the plans of Europeans. But posterity will admire our national stand, and we ourselves are swiftly returning to sanity. We are at least not in the state of dangerous complacency arising when all men speak well of us.

These, then, appear to be the effects of the present war on America: A strengthened and purified patriotism, a new national consciousness which reveals us as possible leaders in a forward movement against selfish materialism and, finally, a new educational training in grasping and settling questions of vital import as to citizenship and self defense—as to the burdens of taxation and willingness to undergo a chastening discipline far different from the type of lawless liberty which borders on license. It is the central, all comprehending question of the hour:

Can we in our present social system produce an efficiency comparable with that which we gropingly consider antagonistic? If we are awake to this the war has proved the source of saving grace to us. If not, history will say of us what Virgil said of Troy, "Troy was, but is no more."—By Dr. William M. Sloane, Professor of History in Columbia University.

MEYER OUT WITH HAMMER

Now Wielding His Instrument Against Mare Island Yard.

George H. von L. Meyer former secretary of the navy is still living sleep over navy yards and his failure to establish a naval base at Narragansett Bay with large golf links and tennis courts for the exclusive use of the navy set. He recently took another stab at Portsmouth with no more effect than was accomplished in any of his schemes while he was the official head of the navy department. He is now directing his hammer at Mare Island yard. The Valley Chronicle has the following to say on his latest declaration.

Although George von L. Meyer is no longer secretary of the navy, he is still riding his favorite hobby horse—the alleged maintenance of too many navy yards by the U. S. government. Meyer comes forth in a lengthy article in the North American Review in which he gives an analysis of the period from 1895 to 1910 as seen from his view point.

He declares that until the last few years, no naval appropriation could pass the senate which did not receive the approval of both a Northern and Southern Carolina senator, each of whom was a member of the naval committee, and to their influences he attributes some of the money which he claims has been wasted on navy yards.

The Army and Navy Journal of this week gives a synopsis of Meyer's article in which it says:

"And the United States has three times as many navy yards as Germany and twice as many as Great Britain with her colossal fleet. Mr. Meyer says that he tried to abolish some of the useless yards by closing them, but he did not dispose of them altogether, lacking the authorization of congress. The interests of the country would be best served, he believes by one first class naval base with sufficient anchorage for the entire fleet, north of the Delaware, equipped for docking, repairing, etc., and other stations of equal capacity at Norfolk, in Chesapeake Bay, with Guantanamo, Cuba, to serve as the winter station rendezvous.

"The presence of only two naval stations on the Pacific coast seems to Mr. Meyer a fortunate circumstance for there is no necessity of continually trying to shake off in that region the old man of the sea, in the shape of useless navy yards, etc. Yet, though the total costs of the Mare Island yard since its establishment in 1850 have been $25,000,000 on account of the lack of sufficient depth of water, none of the eight battleships built in the last eight years could have berthed there."

Meyer seems to have a personal grudge against Mare Island which has not been decreased by the fact that Secretary Daniels, shortly after assuming office, rescinded the order of his predecessor and placed this yard back in the first classification.

PEOPLE'S OPINION

Wants Some Improvements Made Editor Herald:

It is evident that the division in the city government as to the paving of Middle street will prevent the needed repairs of that section of the city while the present members hold office. It is well known why the work will not be undertaken. Now that it has been settled for a year at least, why not go ahead with repairs in other parts of the city where there are no street car lines to be considered and where the work needed will be less expensive. Why not complete the remainder of Daniel street from Pen-shed in the rear of the residence of hollow street to the ferry landing. If Joseph Elliot.

There is any one street that is a disgrace to the city, it is the part of Daniel street between the points Jack are spending a few days with re-named. The summer season brings no natives in this city.

end of visitors on this street and the traffic on the highway is heavy. Certainly the members of the city council who are opposed to the paving of Middle street on account of the expense, cannot be against the repairs of the short space on Daniel street. If they do not care to consider Middle and Daniel streets, why not a part of Pleasant street, there are no car lines there either. If not a big job, why not a small one?

MRS. HORTON HOSTESS. Entertained One Hundred Guests at Whist at Sinclair Inn Wednesday.

The Studebaker club was very pleasantly entertained at whist by Mrs. Arthur W. Horton, at the Sinclair Inn, the home of the Studebaker, on Wednesday evening. There were one hundred guests present, and twenty-five tables were used in play.

Favors were awarded as follows: Ladies' first, a cut glass water set, Mrs. C. E. Holmes; ladies' second, cut glass bon bon dish, Mrs. Irene Wallace; gentlemen's first, leather billbook, J. S. Swann; gentlemen's second, fancy silk cravat, Asa Craig.

Refreshments of ices, assorted cake and coffee were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. H. C. Holt, Mrs. Florence Wood, Mrs. Frank Wood, Mrs. Effie Hunter, and Mrs. Frank Hackett. The affair was a notable success.

Mrs. Horton, the president, organized the club, and it has since become very thrifty and grown into an enthusiastic body.

MAKE APPEAL TO N. H. LEGISLATURE

Concord and Montreal R. R. Directors Ask Passage of House Bills 577 and 494.

The directors of the Concord and Montreal railroad in conference at Concord on Tuesday, unanimously decided to urge the passage of pending legislation "conducive to the preservation of the integrity of the Boston and Maine system."

The bulk of the opposition to the proposed permissive legislation has come from the interests of the leased lines. As the Concord and Montreal is the largest leased line in New Hampshire, the approval by its full directing board of the railroad legislation in question indicates the growing possibility of a harmonious settlement of a perplexing problem.

It is by far the most important development yet in the existing railroad tangle, and one which appears to forecast gradual if not rapid unwinding of the entire mixup.

The Concord and Montreal directors at their conference drew up the following statement, to be presented to the legislature in the course of the railroad hearing.

"To the House of Representatives:

"We the undersigned stockholders in the Concord and Montreal railroad, after a careful examination and consideration of the provisions of bills numbered 577 and 494 now pending before the New Hampshire legislature, being of the opinion that it is for the best interest of the entire body of the stockholders of said corporation that the integrity of the Boston and Maine railroad system shall be preserved as it now exists and believing that said bills will conduce to that end by strengthening the credit of the Boston and Maine railroad and otherwise, we desire to express our wish and recommend that, they may be enacted into law.

HOLDUP ON N. Y. CENTRAL

Four Masked Men Stop Fast Freight and Take Two Truck Loads of Goods.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 15.—Lining up the crew against the side of the train in Wild West style, four masked men armed with revolvers held up a fast freight on the New York Central at Sanborn early today.

While the train crew was kept under guard by two of the robbers, the other pair broke the seals on box cars and loaded most of the valuables into two trucks.

Seizing a favorable moment when their guard was standing on the ground, the engineer and fireman leaped back into the cab and started the engine. Then began a thrilling ride. A few minutes later the engine was in Suspension Bridge, a station on the line. The night station was quickly aroused and told of the robbery. Half a dozen men armed with revolvers jumped into the cab of the engine and were hurried back to Sanborn. When the engine returned to the scene the robbers had disappeared but they had taken with them two big truck loads of merchandise from the cars.

WORKING WOMEN AND THE LAW

Eight million women in the United States are earning their own living. If women are capable of earning their living they are also capable of using the ballot.

Who protects their rights, the hours of work, the wages, the conditions in general? It is the union and the law. Women and girls are given equal rights in deciding the union rules governing their labor. Why are they not qualified and why should they not have the privilege of deciding what laws they must work and live under?

COLONIAL THEATRE

ALL NEXT WEEK

Bob Ott and His Merry Co-Workers
Coming.

Bob Ott and his merry company, offering musical comedies at sensible prices, will be the magnet to attract theatregoers at the new and beautiful Colonial Theatre, a theatre which is a credit to any city many times the population of Portsmouth.

Judging from the press notices received from Lewiston, Augusta, Portland and other cities, the company is a strong and able one. It is said "each member has been carefully selected for the parts they have to play." So that bright, breezy, up-to-the-minute performances of all plays are assured.

Monday matinee and evening, Matt Ott's latest creation, "On the March," will be given. It was written in a humorous vein from start to finish, but on somewhat different lines from some of his former successes.

Melodious music and pretty dances punctuate the whole at frequent intervals, while the stirring situations with which the play abounds are converted into the most convincing climaxes imaginable. Two scenes are laid in Mexico, giving a chance for some elaborate wardrobe. The chorus is not only good to look at but all on the right side of 20. The sale of tickets for the entire engagement opens Saturday at 10 o'clock at the box office. Remember, big double bill—photoplays, Matinee, 2 p. m.; musical comedy, 2.45. Evening photoplays, 7.15; musical comedy, 8.15. See advertisement.

DOUBLE MURDER IN PEABODY

Assassin Killed Two Greeks;
No Clue as to Who Committed the Crime.

(Special to The Herald)

Peabody, Mass., April 15.—Peter Karambelas and Arthur Perellides were murdered here by a mysterious assassin. The dead men are Greeks, living here in the Greek colony. The motive for the crime is said by some of the dead men's friends to have been revenge for the young wife of Karambelas who he deserted in Greece. Another motive asserted by acquaintances of the victims, is jealousy over attentions shown by Karambelas to a girl in the Greek colony in Peabody. A search is being made for the murderer, but has proved futile so far.

Charles Tardif Had Arms
Crushed Under Steam
Hammer at Concord.

Charles Tardif an employee of the Boston and Maine shops at Concord, had both arms badly crushed while at his work Wednesday. Mr. Tardif was operating a steam hammer in the machine shop, when the hammer came down and caught both arms. One was crushed from wrist to shoulder and it was feared amputation would be necessary. The other was not so badly jammed and there were hopes that this arm might be saved.

Mr. Tardif was hurried to the Margaret Pillsbury hospital with a physician attending him in the ambulance and other physicians were waiting at the hospital to assist. Arrangements were made for amputation, but it was decided to postpone such a course and seek to save both arms.

GOVERNOR FAVORS THE B. & M. BILL

Sends Special Message To The Legislature--Lawyers Appear Before The House For All Parties

Concord, April 14.—At 2.30 o'clock this afternoon his excellency the governor came before a joint convention of the senate and house of representatives and read the following message pertaining to the railroad situation:

"To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives in General Court convened:

"The railroad situation surpasses in importance any other subject that has been brought before the present legislature. Because of its importance I feel it my duty to express, and your right to know, my views in regard to it. I believe this to be a crisis in the affairs of our state, and I do not wish to shrink any responsibility by neglecting to take a stand for what seems to me a correct solution of the problem that confronts us.

"In the first place, I believe it is desirable to have the railroads in New Hampshire operated as a single system, properly supervised by a public service commission, as provided for by our laws, rather than to have all the separate roads which now go to make up the Boston and Maine system operated separately and independently. We are told by those most familiar with the conditions that this unification is seriously threatened unless authority is granted allowing a consolidation of the Boston and Maine railroad with its leased lines.

"The Boston and Maine railroad, under its present contracts with its leased lines, is in financial stress and in account of this condition the service it renders the public is inadequate and inefficient. To put the system in first class condition there is need of a large expenditure of money, said to be at least $30,000,000, for equipment and repairs. Considering its present lack same position in which they now are, and takes from them no rights they now have. Our public service commissioners, intelligent and able men, have given this matter careful and painstaking consideration, and they tell us there is nothing in the bill detrimental to the interests of the public. The Boston and Maine railroad and the leased lines are represented by eminent counsel and they tell us that the interests of their clients are safeguarded properly.

"This being so I do not wish to take the responsibility of not favoring the proposed legislation, which those best qualified to know say may save the Boston and Maine railroad from a receivership and place this unified system upon a sound and prosperous basis, thereby insuring good service to the public and a fair return to those holding its stock and securities.

"In this crisis greater responsibility is incurred by doing nothing than by granting the permissive legislation asked for by this bill. If the desired legislation is granted and disaster comes, you will be blameless, for you will simply have granted the requests of the interested parties. If you do not pass the desired legislation, or if you pass legislation which the parties at interest do not want because they say it is unworkable then if disaster comes the responsibility will be upon this legislature because it will be argued that had the requests of the interested parties been granted disaster would have been averted. Each member of the legislature will vote for or against this bill as in his honest judgment. It appears to him to be for the best interests of the public and the stockholders of all the roads involved. But upon a matter of such far-reaching importance not only to New Hampshire but to all the people of New England I feel it my duty to place myself upon record as in favor of the enactment into law of this measure house bill No. 491 in its fourth new draft and I wish to add that I have discussed this matter with the members of the executive council in whose judgment I have great confidence and they unanimously and unqualifiedly approve my views as herein expressed.

"ROLAND H. SPAULDING
"Governor of New Hampshire."

The house was thrown into an uproar this morning when house bill No. 240 relating to the hours of labor for women which was passed in the senate yesterday was reported with amendments and every effort was made by certain members to thwart the passage of the bill. They were however overwhelmingly defeated the members of the house showing that they were in no mood to entertain delays that were suggested by motions for committees of conference for laying the bill on the table etc.

The first motion after the receipt of the bill was by Rep. Brennan of Peterborough who moved that the house concur in the senate amendment.

Rep. Callahan of Keene wanted a committee of conference and moved that the bill be laid on the table pending the appointment of a conference committee. He was voted down and called for a division. He again lost by a vote of 114 to 117.

Rep. Leo of Concord Callahan of Keene Brennan of Peterborough Seavey of Keene Wagner and Flanders of Manchester then spoke on the bill.

Rep. Flanders said it was a good bill but the amendments passed by the senate had been offered by the labor commissioner and were not at the request of some corporation as some of the members of the house seemed to think; that the amendment enabled a man who had lost time through accident occurring to machinery to make up this loss of time if he so desired but this was not obligatory on his part. He couldn't however work any more than 55 hours in any one week. He believed the bill a just one and ought to pass.

Rep. Wood of Portsmouth declared the bill a step backward and moved that it be laid on the table. The point was raised and sustained that he was out of order. Rep. Lyford of Concord contending that this motion had already been voted upon.

Rep. Callahan of Keene said the original bill was satisfactory but that the present bill was not. It had been held in the senate since last February for purposes of amending it. It only passed there by a vote of 11 to 8 showing there was serious opposition to it. He believed it should go to a committee of conference. The labor people of the state did not want the amendment. Women clerks had asked him to see that the bill was defeated. Only one merchant Mr. Hill of Manchester had appeared before the committee in support of the bill.

Rep. Brennan of Peterborough said he understood how precious was the time and therefore he would only say that this bill was just in every particular that it afforded merchants an opportunity to take care of their business in times of emergency and did not work a hardship to anybody or any class of employees; that unless the merchants were granted the relief that this bill would give them they would be forced to make a reduction in wages.

Rep. Wagner of Manchester said that the provisions of the bill or that portion of it relating to employment two nights in a week related almost wholly to Manchester as it was the only place in the state he had been informed in which the stores kept open two nights in a week.

Rep. Callahan attempted to speak again but was denied on a point of order raised by Leo of Concord that he had already spoken twice.

Rep. McNulty of Manchester contended that this bill was reactionary a step backward and he favored leaving the law as it is without amendment.

Rep. Quimby of Claremont moved the previous question and upon being put to a vote the speaker declared the bill passed.

A division was called for and it was seen at a glance that the vote was overwhelmingly in favor of the passage of the bill. Rep. McNulty called for the yeas and nays but subsequently was requested to withdraw his motion and the bill was declared passed.

At 11.40 a. m. the house went into a committee of the whole and listened to addresses on railroad bill No. 491 permitting reorganization of the Boston and Maine railroad. The speakers were the Hon. Edwin C. Eastman a director of the Boston and Maine railroad; Attorney Mayberry for the trustees; Hon. James W. Renick representing the Pearson trust fund and other interests; Conrad W. Crocker representing the Lawrence interests; Edward C. Niles and John E. Benton of the New Hampshire public service commission; Allan Hollis representing the Boston and Lowell road; and George E. Morris representing the Concord and Montreal road. Each speaker was allowed 20 minutes.

Mr. Eastman said in this transaction that there was no connection between the Boston and Maine and New Haven railroads or between Boston and Maine federal trustees and the New Haven railroad.

Conrad Crocker representing the interests of the Lawrence estate in the Boston and Maine railroad opposed the bill. He repeated a charge previously made that the Boston and Maine floating debt of $18000000 is illegal and said his clients would fight in the courts any attempt to make such assessments on Boston and Maine stock as the pending bill provides. Mr. Eastman called the attack on the legality of the floating debt absurd and thought the courts would uphold the stock assessment.

PLEADS GUILTY TO LARCENY

Caron Held in $1,200 for Superior Court in Nashua.

Nashua, April 14.—Eugen Caron, charged with the larceny of $1,022.70 from the St. Joseph's hospital who was brought back by Policeman Napoleon Dierhard from St. Hyacinthe, P. Q., last night pleaded not guilty, through his counsel, J. J. Doyle, in the district court this morning and was held in $1200 bonds for sentence at the May term of the superior court. Bail was furnished.

Caron was in the dock not having obtained bail before the preliminary hearing. His wife came in during the proceedings after he had pleaded guilty. The court room was crowded to hear the case. Attorney Robert French was on the bench.

When the case was called J. J. Doyle as counsel for Caron waived the reading of the charge of larceny and waived examination pleading not guilty. He asked that the court be as lenient as possible in the fixing of the bail. City Solicitor H. P. Greeley for the state stated that about $1500 would be satisfactory.

Doyle—That's nonsense. In almost murder trials they do not ask that amount. But it's all right."

Bail was fixed at $1200. When the witnesses for the superior court, Patrolman Napoleon Dierhard and Rt. Rev. Mgr. J. B. H. V. Millette, A. P., who has charge of the hospital were being sworn Counsel Doyle interrupted the clerk's reading and stated that in order to save Father Millette appearing in superior court in the matter Caron would plead guilty which would not necessitate the appearance in the upper court of the witnesses.

Then there was a conference with Caron in the dock with the interested parties in which his wife joined.

Caron will turn over the $235 he had when arrested, the watch and chain he bought for more than $30 in Concord last Wednesday with part of the money and the remainder will be made up by friends.

The checks which he tore up at Farnham, Canada, will be reissued by the signers.

Patrolman Dierhard agreed back from St. Hyacinthe with Caron at six last evening. Caron remained in the cell all night. Dierhard got to St. Hyacinthe at 9.35 Monday night and left there with his prisoner at 7 yesterday morning. Dierhard traveled 330 miles for the trip that he took the money and told of tearing up the checks at Farnham, Canada. He said he was sorry that he did it. He was well dressed in the dark suit he had bought in Concord with some of the money.

MUST HAVE BUTTONS SEWED ON UNIFORMS

New Order to All Men in Train Service of B. & M.

"Button, Button, Who's Got the Button?" The Boston and Maine trainmen will all have it after June 1 and it will be sewed right on hard to the regulation uniform. The management has posted an order against the use of any more so called shell brass buttons which are made to fasten over the button of a civilian rig. About 2300 men in the train service must comply with the demand. Each set of buttons costs the railroad 28 cents and the total cost to the company will be $784. It will take approximately 5500 buttons to supply the Portland division alone.

CAN'T BEAT "TIZ" WHEN FEET HURT

"TIZ" for sore, tired, puffed-up, aching, calloused feet or corns.

"Sure! I use 'TIZ' every time for any foot trouble."

You can be happy-footed just like me. Use "TIZ" and never suffer with tender, raw, burning, blistered, swollen, tired, smelly feet. "TIZ" and only "TIZ" takes the pain and soreness out of corns, callouses and bunions.

As soon as you put your feet in a "TIZ" bath, you just feel the happiness soaking in. How good your poor, old feet feel. They want to dance for joy. "TIZ" is grand. "TIZ" instantly draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, aching, sweaty, smelly feet.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" at any drug store or department store. Get instant foot relief. Laugh at foot sufferers who complain. Because your feet are never, never, going to bother or make you limp any more.

MINUTES IN MANHATTAN

New York, April.—New York artists and authors are about to build an Ellysium, a private paradise, where their every want shall be on tap all the time. It is to be seventeen stories high in the Gothic style. Any pen or paint genius not happy here never will be.

Having disposed of the sordid little detail of $1,250,000, Paradise expressed in terms of gold, I proceed to rhapsodize.

There are two grand divisions: (1) Authors on the south side. (2) Artists on the north side.

It seems the sun is supposed to bring the brilliancy of authors to full fruition, to make them bluish as it were. Likewise, artists smile and purr softly when basking in north light.

The name—ah, that is the only dreadful part—I can't leave it out—hush—softly—"Hotel des Artistes." Considerable fall, as Mark Anthony might have remarked. The muse, when this horror was composed slept at least—was perhaps in even worse state.

Hastening on, for tourists' use, I state this Isle of the Blessed is to be situated on Sixty-seventh street just west of Central Park. Each stockholder occupies space in the building equivalent to his stock holdings.

And here is how the servant problem is met and—as the war headline writers insist—defeated:

On the second floor is a great white tiled modern, up-to-date kitchen, where works a corps of chefs in the employ of the building. Their salaries are figured in the running expenses of Paradise; just like the pay of the elevator boys.

Each apartment has what at first view looks like a kitchen but it is a "service room." You only store and prepare food for cooking here. When your potatoes are peeled and your roast is salted and peppered, you send it shooting down on the electric dumb-waiter to the chefs below, like a soul going for a period in Purgatory. Properly done and at the correct minute it returns unto Heaven and is consumed by the Celestials.

Everything is electric, or nearly everything. There's an electric ice box which makes cubes of ice; and a thermostat, guaranteed to work 355 days in the year, keeps the room at just the temperature desired by the divinity who happens to inhabit it.

All the apartments are duplex—that is, you have two floors, even if upstairs is the fifteenth floor and downstairs the fourteenth.

But I didn't finish up with the servant question. Perhaps you thought you had to peel your own potatoes and salt and pepper your own roast. Oh, no! You employ maids at twenty-five cents an hour for just as long as you desire—then out they go before they have time to set a banquet for the

It has been suggested to the committee on railroads that by using some of the provisions of the New Hampshire bill, it may be possible to obtain concessions from the legislature of that state on the Massachusetts bill. At the end of section five it was suggested that a clause of the New Hampshire bill might be inserted. This section permits the Boston and Maine to modify or renew any existing lease or contract for the lease of a subsidiary company, and the amendment would be to strike out the approval by the Public Service Commission of the approved lease of contract and to use the New Hampshire provision that said contract shall not be valid if for the payment of any larger rental of for a period of any longer time.

BOSTON LETTER

Boston April 15—Governor Walsh will sign at once the bill recommended in his inaugural address to give publicity to the people of the state of the advantages of savings bank life insurance. The bill has passed the senate and the house. Senator John P. Sheehan of Holyoke the labor leader of the senate conducted the victorious fight against the opposition to the measure. Senators William E. A. Beazley of Uxbridge and Ezra V. Clark of Plymouth joined in the ardent support of the measure. Senator Sheehan declared that since the inauguration of savings bank life insurance the insurance corporations have been obliged to reduce their premium charges twenty per cent, have been obliged to eliminate the unwholesome provisions of their policies and have undergone a general house cleaning. He says the change can be attributed only to the competition of savings bank life insurance, which he described as the poor man's insurance, because it gives him the cheapest insurance at the lowest possible rates.

Every Episcopal minister of sixty-eight may receive a pension of $600 a year. This is the proposed law to be discussed at the forthcoming convention of the diocese next Wednesday in Huntington hall by the ministers and laity of the church. The pension system originated with Bishop Lawrence who was appointed chairman of

UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Driscoll-Campbell Nuptials This Morning.

One of the prettiest weddings that has taken place for some time was solemnized at the Church of the Immaculate Conception at 3 o'clock this morning when Miss Helen Katherine Campbell, became the bride of Cornelius Matthew Driscoll in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties. This wedding occurred on the 26th anniversary of the marriage of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Driscoll of Thornton street.

The ceremony was performed by the brother of the groom, Rev. John J. Driscoll of Hillsboro, followed by a solemn high mass at which Father Driscoll was the celebrant. Rev. Edward J. Clark of Dover, deacon; Rev. Edward J. Clark of Manchester, sub-deacon; and Rev. Frank A. Mulvanity of this city, master of ceremonies.

The bride wore a very pretty gown of white satin with tulle veil. She was attended by her sister Frances Campbell, who was gowned in a dress of yellow crepe de chine with hat to match.

The best man was Timothy Driscoll, also a brother of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the future home of the couple on Freeman avenue where there was an outpouring of hearty congratulations by those assembled, followed by a reception and wedding breakfast, consisting of salads, cold meats, rolls, olives, celery, assorted cake, ice cream, and coffee. The wedding gifts were numerous and beautiful and included much silver, furniture and choice embroidery.

Mr. and Mrs. Driscoll departed on the afternoon train for a wedding trip to New York, Washington and other points of interest and on their return will make their home in a newly furnished dwelling on Freeman avenue.

The traveling gown of the bride was a green broadcloth with hat to match. The happy couple are well known throughout the city and both enjoy the warm friendship of their acquaintances and friends, who join in wishing them much matrimonial bliss.

Among the out of town guests attending the wedding were the following: Mrs. Frederick Heaver, Miss Mary Stevens, Miss Margaret McDonald, Quincy, Mass.; Mrs. Celia Flanagan, South Lincoln, Mass.; Mrs. Arthur Abbott, Portland; Jeremiah Driscoll, Mr. and Mrs. John Driscoll, of South Boston; Miss Grace Hughes, Salmon Falls; Mr. and Mrs. William Milligan, Georgetown, Mass.

NAVY YARD NEWS

Work Good on Pacific
Four thousand men are at present employed at Puget Sound and Mare Island yards on the Pacific coast. The last named yard has 350 more than were employed a year ago.

Busy at the Links
Many officers, taking advantage of the closing of the yard are hanging the ball on the golf links today.

Many Pets
The crew of the Montana brought back many pets from Southern waters including a handsome Cuban deer and peacocks. Parrots are numerous but the old standby, William goat, is missing.

Will Have No Examination
Owing to the large list of eligible applicants, the board of labor employment at the Charlestown, navy yard, announces that the quarterly examination usually held July 1 for appointments as laborers, molders, machinists, machinist's helpers, and smith's helpers will not be held.

SPECIAL FEATURE FOR AFTERNOONS

"The Walls of Jericho" to Be Shown Friday and Saturday.

The special attraction at the Portsmouth Theatre for Friday afternoon and Saturday afternoon is the five reel photo play production of the "Walls of Jericho." The play was written by Alfred Saito and this production is identical with the stage production by James K. Hackett at the Hackett Theatre, New York.

This virtue story of English social life is a message—a warning to modern civilization against the decadence of its very foundations. It is a clarion blast against gambling, dissipation, and tendencies just as injurious to our social being. The story revolves about a self-made millionaire who marries a lady of royal birth, whose associates in the smart set almost lead her to destruction.

The leading role is taken by Edmund Breese and the play is under the direction of William Fox. The cast is comprised of all stars including Claire Whitney and Stewart Holmes.

"The Walls of Jericho" will be shown at the afternoon performance only on Friday and Saturday in addition to the regular Portsmouth Theatre program.

BOAT IS FOUND; MAN MISSING

Dwight Sewall, aged 21, of York, has been reported missing, and grave fears are held for his safety. On Wednesday forenoon the missing man left York Harbor in his 14-foot dory, which is practically new, intending to go on a fishing trip. During the afternoon the Wood Island life saving crew saw the man, and noticing that he was in a perilous condition, offered to give him assistance, but he refused their aid. At the time it was noticed that he was acting rather queerly. Sewall has for some time been laboring under a heavy mental strain and it is thought his mind had become unbalanced.

Upon his failure to return home Wednesday evening, members of his family telephoned to the Wood Island station this morning and asked that a search for the missing man be made. Members of the crew at once set out in their power boat and began cruising around. After a short search the missing man's dory was found high and dry on Raynes' Neck, Braveboat Harbor, Kittery Point. One of the oars was in the rowlock and the second was found about a hundred feet away from the boat upon the beach. No further trace of the missing man was found and it is thought that he may have been drowned, or is wandering in the woods which surrounds the beach.

LATER—The unfortunate man was picked up by the police in this city today and will hold him until the arrival of relatives from York, who will take him home.

Mrs. Frederick Heaver of Quincy, is here to attend the Driscoll-Campbell wedding today.
